Of the Proceedings in Parliament.

Munday August 28. 1704.

*Prayers said,
Rolls called,*

Minuts of the last Sederunt read.

ORdered that the two Captain Drummonds have preference for their Arrears, as is contained in the Minuts of the Date the twenty third instant.

The Address to be sent to Her Majesty read, and after several Amendments made thereon, it was put to the Vote, Approve, or not, and carried Approve; After which Her Majesties high Commissioner made a Speech to the Parliament, as follows.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

You have now sit long, and I think you cannot complain that you have been cut short by frequent Adjournments, or short Sederunts: In this time more might have been done, however some good Laws are past, and one in particular, which gives sufficient evidence of the Disposition Her Majesty was in, to have gratified you in whatever was reasonable; I advertised you lately, that you had not much longer time to sit, and tho I cannot but say the time you have had since has been usefully employed, yet if more Dispatch had been made, some of these good Laws which are before you might have past: But now I must tell you, that I am not allowed to give you any more time, Her Majesty thinking a short Recess necessary at present, so it will not be long before you have an Opportunity of doing what still remains fit to be done; For I can assure you, no disappointment that Her Majesty has met with, will in the least alter her Gracious Disposition towards this Her anti-ent Kingdom.

The Lord Chancellour by Order of Her Majesties High Commissioner, adjourned the Parliament till the seventh day of October next.

BY Order of his Grace John Marquess of Tweeddale, Her Majesties High Commissioner, and the Estates of Parliament, Mr. James Johnstoun Lord
